DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claims 2-3, 5, 9-10, and 12 recite the broad recitation of wattage, spectrum, and angle respectively, and those claims also recites preferable wattage, spectrum, and angle values which are a narrower statement of the range/limitation.

Claims 2-3, 5, 9-10, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Those claims are considered indefinite because each contains a broad recitation followed by a narrower recitation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 4, 6-8, 11, and 13-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sevcik et al. (US 5,655,312). Sevcik is considered to disclose the claimed invention comprising:

an apparatus 2 for curing radiation curable coatings, which has at least one irradiation chamber 6 provided with a plurality of UV radiation sources 16, wherein a plurality of UV radiation sources are arranged close to one another and interconnected to form one or more irradiation modules, the aluminance inside an irradiation module and/or between at least two irradiation modules being spatially variable (please see column 2 lines 15-27 wherein the disclosed reflector structure is consider to anticipate the claimed spatial variability because both perform the same function, in the same manner with the same result). Sevcik is also considered to disclose the claimed ventilation system 4.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 2, 5, 9, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sevcik. Sevcik is considered to disclose the claimed invention, as discussed above under the anticipatory rejection, except for the claimed wattage and angle. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to claim a specific wattage or angle, since the wattage and angles claimed are not considered patentably distinct from the wattage and angles taught in the prior art cited in this application.

Claims 3 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sevcik in view of Rudd et al. (US 5,634,402). Sevcik is considered to disclose the claimed invention, as discussed above under the anticipatory rejection, except for the claimed spectrum. Rudd is considered to disclose the claimed spectrum at column 4 lines 50-55. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to claim a specific spectrum for the purpose of optimizing the radiation curing coating of an object.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Reference A, cited in this application, is considered to disclose the claimed radiation curing coating apparatus.
